2 Specification

2.1 BIAF Background

The mission of BIAF is to be the preeminent, progressive, international arts event within Northern Ireland, actively engaging both global and local communities in the richness and diversity of contemporary arts practice and programming that cuts across traditional artform boundaries. We work closely with NI artists to support the development and creation of distinctive new work as well as presenting today's most exciting artists from around the world. With our partners throughout the entire city, we seek to create a distinctive environment for audiences to enjoy and participate in inspirational and transformative aesthetic experiences from world-class artists, thinkers and leaders.

We do this by:

- Presenting a wide range of contemporary arts and cultural events of the highest possible international standard to the widest possible audiences from home and abroad.
- Reflecting contemporary culture from across the globe to audiences from Belfast, NI and visitors to the province.
- Offering an international showcase for the best of Northern Ireland contemporary culture.
- Presenting events which cannot easily be achieved by any other UK or Irish arts organisation through innovative programming and a commitment to creating new work.
- Actively ensuring equal opportunities and access for all sections of our communities to directly experience, participate in and enjoy BIAF.
- Collaborating and partnering with arts and community organisations across Belfast to create an annual city wide, cultural celebration.
- Ensuring BIAF has adequate financial resources and expertise to fulfil its mission and address its overall sustainability.

BIAF also plays an important role in cultural tourism, attracting domestic and overseas visitors to Belfast. As we look ahead to recovery, BIAF has a key role in helping with the social, economic and cultural revival of the city and more widely, our artistic communities and audiences.

Our guiding principles reflect the importance of:

- Global Connections.
- Contemporary and inter-disciplinary arts practice.
- Community.
- Collaboration and Partnership.
- Access and Diversity.

Belfast International Arts Festival 2021

The 2021 edition will take place from 13 October – 2 November with a programme of compelling drama and dance, experimental genre-busting works, topical talks and the latest literary releases, classical music, toe-tapping folk and roots, independent film and contemporary visual arts. As Northern Ireland's largest contemporary arts festival and cornerstone of the annual cultural calendar, this year's programme is envisaged to take place live and in-person, with a small number of digital offerings. As part of our planning we have hybrid and digital-only scenarios (see below).

The exciting and thought-provoking programme continues to explore contemporary matters of interest to our audiences such as the climate crisis, gender equality, multi-culturalism, representation, and democracy.

There are newly commissioned works and world premieres from NI and overseas. We are building upon the cross-border partnership with Westival established last year, and a continuing relationship with Institut Francais, and a host of other partnerships. We are also involved in industry showcasing initiatives promoting NI talent abroad. Our Embrace strand, which seeks to actively engage audiences in creative practice, will include dance and music workshops and post-show discussions/ Q&A's.

The full programme will be revealed in mid-August with a mix of paid and free events. Several signature events may be released on sale in June. BIAF continues to develop donation and membership schemes.

BIAF's values of reflecting the importance of global connectivity, cultural diversity, access and participation and contemporary art practice will continue to play a key role in communications.

BIAF appeals to a wide demographic (81% of BIAF19 survey respondents were equally distributed between age bands 25-64). We anticipate the majority of our audience to be from Belfast and Northern Ireland with approximately 10% of audiences coming from the close to home markets of ROI and GB. It is expected that international visitors will return in 2022. One of our key and unique strengths is our ability to connect NI, its artists and audiences with artistic practice from across the world and to once again, feel part of a wider global community.

Scenario Planning for 2021 Edition:

BIAF has planned for a variety of 2021 event delivery scenarios that are subject to Covid-19 conditions and are as follows:

1. Live: With the easing of local restrictions, BIAF is working towards delivering a predominantly live festival in 2021. This is of course dependent on Government Guidelines on public gatherings, social distancing and travel as well as public confidence in attending events and the reopening of venues.
2. Hybrid: In the event that Government restrictions prevent us from delivering a fully live event, BIAF has in place a series of plans to deliver a hybrid festival, comprising a mix of live and digital events. On the back of delivering a digital festival in 2020, BIAF can build on the strengths of that experience and has the ability to adapt events for the screen as and when is necessary.
3. Digital: If absolutely necessary, BIAF can deliver an entirely digital event as indeed we successfully did in 2020.

Factors influencing our decision on the nature and format of our 2021 event will include, but not be limited to:

- The advice of government on public gatherings, social distancing and venue specific advice (we expect further Stormont and Westminster Government advice and guidance in these areas in the coming days and weeks).
- The views of our stakeholders.
- Ongoing financial circumstances.
- Availability of invited artists, events and venues.
- Restrictions placed upon artists based overseas.
- Availability of public transport for our audiences.
- Available travel and freight options for overseas artists.
- Our assessment of the public mood and appetite for attending live events.

It is likely therefore that a final decision on the nature and format of our 2021 edition will be taken towards the end of June.

4.14 General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

4.14.1 The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) came into force on 25 May 2018. The GDPR applies to Controllers (who say how and why personal data is processed) and Processors (who act on the Controller's behalf). GDPR applies to any public or private organisation processing personal data. Personal data means any information that relates to an identified or identifiable living subject, i.e. staff member, member of the public, customer etc. The contracts being procured as a part of this PR Tender will be subject to the GDPR, and the successful service provider will be a Processor.

Tenderers should note that:

- e) The contract documents to be entered into by the successful supplier(s) will include specific obligations in relation to GDPR
- f) The pricing and supplementary information at Section 3, requires the tenderer to confirm that they have in place technical and organisation measures that are sufficient to ensure that the processing will (a) meet the requirements of GDPR legislation and (b) ensure the protection of the rights of the data subject.
